Description of Property and Eligibility Determination: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)

According to the Maryland Inventory of Historic Properties (MIHP) Form, dated 10/16/80, for the St. Mary's Ice and Fuel Company, this building was "...a two-story, late nineteenth century farm house converted to commercial use as a gas station and ice warehouse." Although the MIHP Form continues by stating that "...the basic outline of a residence remains intact, with the original siding and cornice decoration of the main section in place..," photographs provided to the Maryland Historical Trust on 11/22/02 clearly establish that the building has burned severely and is largely in ruins. Due to the extensive fire damage, the property has lost its integrity and is, therefore, not eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The St. Mary's Ice and Fuel Co. building is a two-story late nineteenth century frame house converted to commercial use as a gas station and ice warehouse located at the southern end of Washington Street on the Leonardtown wharf in Leonardtown, Maryland.

The structure is oriented west toward Washington Street and the west elevation consists of a main two bay section and a projecting two bay section at the north end. A one story shed roof addition, probably enclosing the former porch, wraps around the west elevation. The roof is flat with a bracketed cornice. The two story sections are covered in weatherboards and the enclosed one story section is German sided. The sash is 1/1 modern aluminum. The original entry is obscured: the present entry is at the south end of the shed roofed portion which has openings at the west and south. The addition has paired 1/1 windows.

The area west and south of the building is open, with gas pumps occupying the western section. On the south the property is adjoined by modern warehouses at the edge of Breton Bay.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Although the exterior has been substantially altered, the basic outline of a residence remains intact, with the original siding and cornice decoration of the main section in place. Its location at the edge of the town wharf suggests the probable importance of its owner/builder.
